Dear Cameron:

It is my sincere pleasure to have you as our ambassador of Stan Lee's Hands of Respect Initiative and liaison to the National Football League (NFL) and associated organizations.

As a former professional football player and National Football League Players Association lifetime alumni, you understand the importance of working with the community and especially youth in presenting a positive message and being a role model. I look forward to working with you and bringing the sports community, law enforcement and communities together in Respect and Unity.

The RESPECT Initiative (www.handsofrespect.com) is a very personal initiative of mine to help bridge the gap between law enforcement and the community and to help bring back a very basic human fundamental of Respect for one another.

I want to thank you for your passion and for being a real life superhero!

Excelsior!
